Hakata ori

“Hakata Gion Yamakasa,” the iconic summer festival filled with the pride and passion of the people of Hakata, features the work of traditional artisans representing Fukuoka Prefecture, including Hakata doll makers, Hakata ori textile artisans, and Kurume Kasuri weavers. This summer, Takumi Gallery will present an exhibition showcasing the traditional crafts connected to the Yamakasa Festival. Through live demonstrations and talks by master artisans, visitors can experience the essence of these traditional crafts, including the meanings behind their designs and the dedication to their techniques. We invite you to discover the charm of the traditional crafts associated with Yamakasa, one of Fukuoka’s proud cultural traditions.

About Hakata Gion Yamakasa

Hakata Gion Yamakasa is the famous festival of Hakata with a history and tradition of more than 780 years, dating back to the Kamakura period (1185-1333). It is a Shinto ritual to dedicate Yamakasa, the chief deity of Hakata, to Kushida Shrine and to pray for good health and well-being, and is designated as a nationally important intangible folk cultural asset. It was also registered as a UNESCO Intangible Cultural Heritage in 2016.
